On-Site Interpreting

On-Site Interpreting occurs when our interpreters come on-site to facilities with communication between those who do not share the same language. There are certain instances in which there is no substitute for having an interpreter physically present, which makes On-Site Interpreting the most effective and valuable method of interpreting.

We are staffed with the most experienced interpreters. There are several different ways to place a request for On-Site Interpreting services. You can either call us at 240-409-7972, email us at schedule@frederickinterpreting.com, or place a request through your account in our scheduling system. We only provide interpreters who are nationally certified or have passed our rigorous screening process to ensure the services of the highest standards.

We will send an invoice with a summary of all the details, including the duration, address, and name of the interpreter on a weekly basis after the services have been rendered. We have an industry-standard minimum of 2 hours for each On-Site Interpreting assignment.

We are proud to offer the most affordable rates in the whole region.

Video Remote Interpreting

Video Remote Interpreting (VRI) is a transformational technology that allows people speaking different languages to remove the language barriers instantly through a computer, tablet, or smartphone. Open our Video Remote Interpreting (VRI) app, choose your language, and connect to an interpreter immediately.

We have one of the most advanced Video Remote Interpreting (VRI) systems in the industry.

Our Video Remote Interpreting (VRI) can be used on-site where you would be present with the client who needs interpreting services and the interpreter would be present through the video platform. Additionally, we can offer over 100+ other languages at the same cost. We have an average connect time of 26 seconds.

Our system is completely HIPAA and GDPR compliant. No scheduling is required for Video Remote Interpreting (VRI) and there is no minimum time for billing. Our system is compatible with the vast majority of computers, tablets, and smartphones.

We also offer Video Remote Interpreting (VRI) systems tailored to your organizational needs. The most popular is an adjustable wheeled cart with an iPad holder, which allows the Video Remote Interpreting (VRI) system to be mobile.

Making accessibility as affordable as possible is one of our fundamental principles.
